County stops short of regulating sawmills

by Cheryl Rulley
Staff Writer

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners has asked the Planning Commission to reconsider a proposed zoning ordinance regulating sawmills.

Even after hearing numerous complaints from local sawmill owners, the Planning Commission submitted proposed amendments to the county board as written. Sawmill owners Jay Stephan Jr., Dave Niederer, and Todd and Kary Gabriel were among those pleading with the board to completely reject the amendment at their June 20 regular meeting.

SHELTER CONTRACT HANGS IN THE BALANCE

by Cheryl Rulley
Staff Writer

On the written advice of Assistant Prosecutor David Sabin, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners offered a month-to-month extension of their current contract with the Animal Shelter of Crawford County, Inc.

At their regular meeting on June 20, the County Board briefly reviewed the present contract which expires on June 30. The Board wishes to keep the contract as it is because it budgeted only $8,600 to be contributed to the care of animals at the shelter for the 2001 fiscal year.

Representing the shelter board at the meeting was Joe Porter who said a phone poll of the board would have to be taken before he could answer the county's offer for the extension. On May 31, shelter board members presented a proposal to the county seeking funding upwards of $40,000 for the next year and indicating the amount was needed because there are now two paid employees at the shelter and there are prospects of hiring another.

After reviewing a copy of a proposal from Roscommon County to take Crawford County's animals brought in by the Animal Control Officer (ACO), the shelter board has now countered the county's offer, requesting $2,000 per month for the remaining three months of the county's fiscal year -- the same as offered by Roscommon.

Volunteer unit now 'on call' to aid victims of crime, accidents

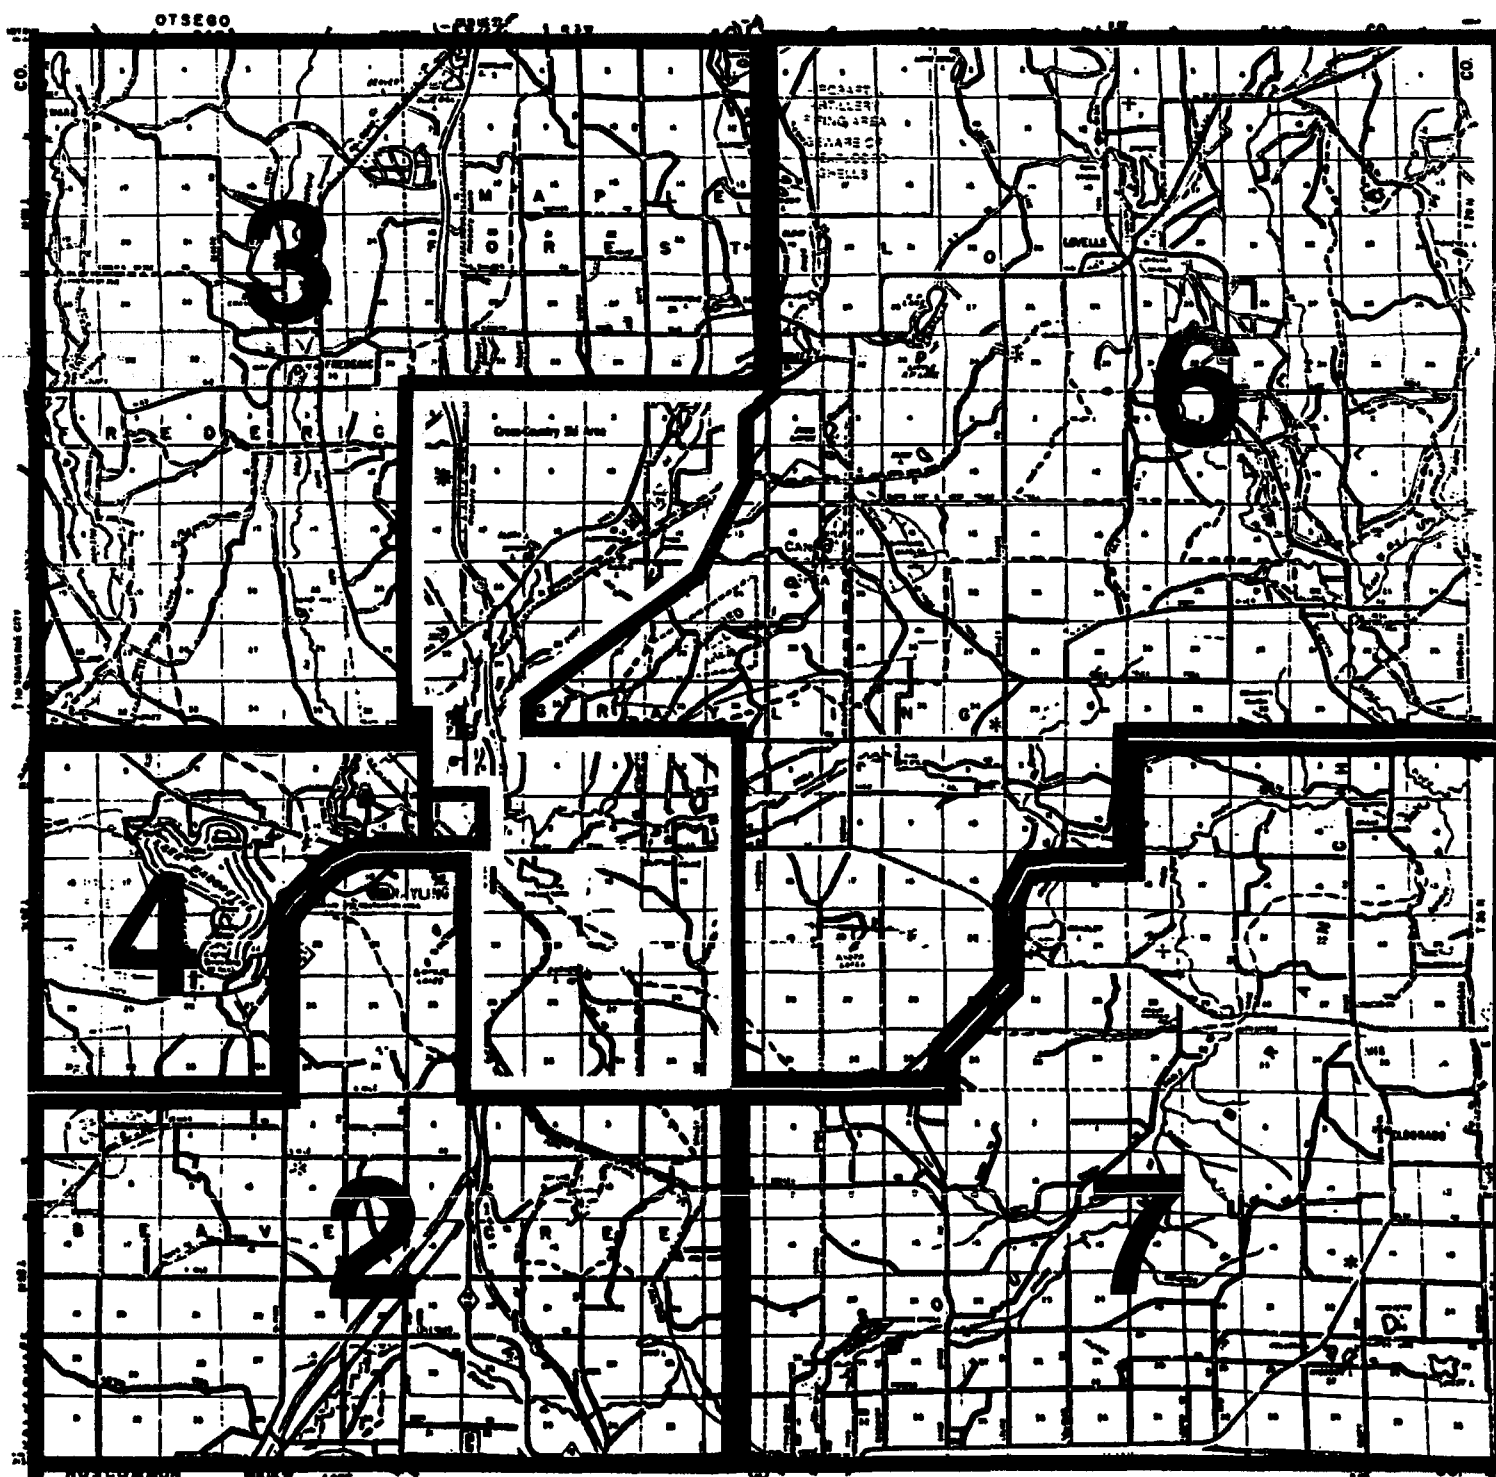

by Cheryl Rulley
Staff Writer

Someone is a victim of a home invasion, drunk driving or other serious traffic accident, assault or incident of domestic violence. Someone witnessed an accident, suicide or homicide. To whom can this person turn for comfort, guidance or advice?

Family members and emergency personnel are usually quick to come forward to comfort a crime victim, but what happens after that? Crawford County Victim Rights Advocate, Sharon Huss, hopes a new program can help fill the void.

RE-APPORTIONED CRAWFORD COUNTY

New county commissioner district lines have been approved and filed in Lansing, creating a seventh district. The only existing district left untouched by re-apportionment is District #1 covering the city of Grayling, located on the map between Districts 4 and 5. Membership list still incomplete

by Cheryl Ruley
Staff Writer

The Animal Shelter of Crawford County's membership roll that Crawford County Chairman Scott Hanson insisted be "in order" by the Commissioner's June 20 meeting has not been completed. Even so, the county offered to extend the shelter's contract on a month-by-month basis at that meeting.

Members Mika Sumner, a long-time shelter volunteer, and Brenda Wargo, acting secretary for the shelter's membership, met on June 19 to go over the names submitted as members with shelter board members Nancy Lemmen and Susan Thiel, though neither Sumner or Wargo have been recognized as members by the shelter board. The members agreed to meet with Lemmen and Thiel as stand-ins for former volunteer director Dixie Lobsinger following the death of her mother on June 13 in Texas.

"We just want to see this through and over with," Wargo said of coming to an agreement on the eligible members of the organization.

Sumner and Wargo said they left the meeting disappointed when neither Thiel nor Lemmen offered any names compiled by the board. Wargo went to the meeting armed with membership forms signed by about 270 members stating their contributions to the shelter. Over 230 of those forms had signed receipts stapled to them stating a cash and/or other contribution had been received, all proving eligibility for membership under current bylaws.

Members contend the current bylaws should be adhered to and the members recognized, while shelter board members have used their lawsuit against the former volunteer director to refuse recognition of the members, thus keeping them from holding a meeting where they may vote to remove all or part of the board.

Shelter board member Joe Porter told the Crawford County Board of Commissioners on June 20 the membership had been filed with the court. None can be found on file at the courthouse. On June 26, acting president Ward Parker stated, "He should have said 'it would be filed with the court by Monte' (Burmeister)." She confirmed, there is no membership list yet.

Burmeister is representing the shelter board on a pro bono (without fee) basis and is not expected back in his office until July 3. Burmeister's secretary said she knew none of the details regarding the membership roll.

The shelter board was made aware of the many people inside and out of the county claiming membership in the shelter organization

"There is no excess money. We have budgeted $8,600 for 2001 and will be over budget with the shelter line item as things are right now. Since January, we have given them $6,000... now they want another $12,000 to cover the next three months." Hanson pointed out that for more than nine years the shelter operated with a volunteer staff and an average of $7,000 to $8,000 from the county. "And, everything was run just fine at the shelter," he said.

Shelter Board acting president, Ward Parker said she doesn't know what her board will do if the county does not accept their counter offer. With the contract expiring June 30, she said, "I guess we'll have to decide what to do as soon as possible."

According to county records, a little more than 60 animals have been taken to the shelter by the ACO since January 1. As of June 23, only six have been taken in during the month of June, making Hanson, as he said, "hard-pressed to justify doubling the contract amount for three months."

when board members attended a meeting called by the members in early January. At that meeting, Burmeister served former director Lobsinger with a four-count lawsuit alleging she and her "agents" (volunteers/family members) were guilty of trespassing and being nuisances, and demanding shelter records and possible damages of $25,000.

The shelter board has had nearly five months to compile a membership list, however it has not come forward with an accounting of the membership. Lobsinger's attorney, Keith DuBois, confirmed Burmeister's office has had the member's compiled list since February, but could not comment on why there had been a delay in deciding who belongs on the rolls.

A hearing is scheduled to consider the membership roll on July 25 at 1:30 p.m. in 46th Circuit Trial Court in Crawford County. The shelter board is also seeking the courts permission to change the bylaws as an alternative to recognizing anyone as members.

Volunteer unit now 'on call' to aid victims of crime, accidents

Huss is leading the way as coordinator of the new Crawford County Victim Services Unit, initiated by Sheriff Dave Lovely with guidance from the Michigan Sheriff's Association. "I am anxious to let people know about the program," Huss said. "We have had people come forward for training from every corner of the county. They are 15 really, really wonderful people."

In late April, volunteers attended 20 hours of training designed to assist new advocates in getting a general understanding of victimization and crisis intervention. Upon completion of the training, participants became Volunteer Advocates and underwent an interview and background check.

The Advocates must be able to get along well with people, be open and non-judgmental, be compassionate and be able to think and respond under pressure. Sound decision-making capabilities and the ability to keep everything confidential is of the utmost importance, and advocates may only give victims their first names.

The Advocates will be called when law enforcement agencies see a necessity for their services. They will help free up police, fire and medical personnel to do their jobs and attend those in need, keeping them from feeling isolated or "left out in the cold."

From the moment they are called to assist until the perpetrator of a crime is brought to justice, Volunteer Advocates will be there. "We want to avoid victims being victimized twice," Huss explained. "Too many times, victims of crime are left out of touch with the court process. We can be there to explain how the criminal justice system works. After all, the criminals have their lawyers to turn to... now the victims will have advocates, too."

The new Victim Services Program went into effect June 15

but the names of the Volunteer Advocates are being kept confidential for the sake of future victims and the privacy of the advocates themselves. Advocates are scheduled to be on call for 48-hours at a time or as their personal schedules allow.

"We are so lucky to have this program in Crawford County," remarked Huss. "Crawford is in the forefront in Michigan. It is one of only 30 of Michigan's 83 counties to institute the program."

Huss said had the program been available New Year's Eve 1998, volunteers would have been able to help tremendously with the big pile up on I-75 near Frederic and would have been able to comfort many following the fatal accident last June when three local teens lost their lives. "It (the Victim Services Unit) is definitely a sorely needed service in Crawford County and any community."

While the Unit now consists of 15 Volunteer Advocates, Huss said she would like to see the group grow to 20 in the future.

Anyone interested in the program may call Sharon Huss at (989) 344-3248.

On Thursday, June 21, Crawford County Road Commission crews continue work on a new section of roadway to replace parts of North Higgins Lake Drive in southern Crawford County. The new stretch of road, about a half a mile in all, will replace a section of tight curves on North Higgins Lake Drive. Parts of the old roadway will be removed and crushed to help create the base for the new road. Road Commission Managing Director Don Babcock said he expects the North Higgins Lake Drive project to be finished by the end of July.

Van rolls twice on I-75 when tire 'malfunctions'

Michigan State Police (MSP) at the Houghton Lake Post are investigating a one-vehicle personal injury accident that occurred at approximately 5 p.m. last Wednesday on northbound I-75, south of the St. Helen exit in Roscommon County.

According to the MSP, a 1994 Plymouth Voyager mini-van, driven by 16-year old Rachel Quillet of Oregon, Ohio, was traveling in the left lane of I-75 when the passenger side rear tire malfunctioned. She lost control of the vehicle, going off onto the right shoulder of the roadway.

The van slid sideways, then rolled over at least twice before landing on its roof.

Rachel's 14-year old brother, Seth, who was riding in the back seat, was not wearing a seat belt and was thrown from the vehicle. He received multiple injuries and was listed in critical condition at West Branch Regional Hospital the evening of June 20.

Rachel's father, Gordon Quillet, age 45, was a front seat passenger. Both Rachel and her father were wearing seat belts. They were also taken to West Branch Regional, where they remained overnight.

MSP reports alcohol does not appear to be a factor, but the accident remains under investigation.

Troopers from the Houghton Lake Post were assisted at the scene by troopers from West Branch and also the Richfield Police Department. Denton Township and Richfield Township EMS responded, along with Richfield Township Fire and Rescue.

Although the proposed amendment would regulate only those areas zoned for agriculture in Maple Forest, Beaver Creek and South Branch Townships, the only three townships governed by the county zoning ordinance, some sawmill owners who would not be affected by the ordinance have their concerns.

A sizeable area of Maple Forest is zoned as such and only very small areas are in Beaver Creek and South Branch Townships are considered agricultural. The problem for the sawmill owners is they are of the belief that the amendment was developed to take care of one "problem" sawmill in Maple Forest and that once an amendment regulating their way of life is instituted at the county level, other townships may find it appealing and pass similar ordinance language in the future.

The entire Beaver Creek Township Board attended the meeting, repeating their desires to see the Commissioners pass the amendment proposal as written, in its entirety.

The Commissioners discussed the concerns and comments from the sawmill owners and voted to send only the proposed sawmill amendment back to the Planning Commission. District #6 Commissioner Terry Beardslee, who is a member of the Planning Commission and has worked many months on the proposed amendments, was the only one who voted against the action.

The remaining proposed zoning amendments covering subjects from accessory buildings and mobile homes to square footage requirements was approved, without complete unanimity on some amendments. A complete outline and text of the amendments can be reviewed at the Crawford County Clerk's office or at the Building and Zoning Department.

Veteran cemetery one step closer to Crawford County

Michigan will be developing two military cemeteries in northern Michigan under legislation approved June 14 by the House Veterans Affairs Committee.

House Bill 4225, sponsored by 105th District Rep. Ken Bradstreet (R-Gaylord), authorizes the state Department of Military and Veterans Affairs to acquire land in Crawford and Dickinson counties for state veterans cemeteries.

"Providing veterans a final resting place in a state cemetery will forever recognize their service on behalf of our freedoms," said Bradstreet. "There is a lot of work to be done, but we are under way and headed in the right direction to honor our country's heroes."

"Placing a cemetery in Crawford County for northern lower Michigan and one in Dickinson County for the Upper Peninsula is ideal because of their central locations."

The proposed sites must and will meet the federal government's recommendation that veteran cemeteries be within 75 miles of 95 percent of residents. There are already two existing facilities in southern Michigan. Sites near Grayling are under consideration in Crawford County, though no specific details have been released by Bradstreet's office.

Bradstreet's bill also allows the veterans affairs department to accept funds to establish the cemeteries, including federal grants available from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs. The expense of creating the cemeteries is federally reimbursable, with the state paying for daily operation once the facilities are established.

HB 4225 will now be considered by the full House, possibly before summer recess, then the bill will be sent on to a Senate committee for approval.

Mapmaker, mapmaker, draw up a map.....

IN THE VENERABLE Broadway musical, "Fiddler on the Roof," three unmarried daughters of a beleaguered Tevye dance around the stage pleading in song that Yenta, the village matchmaker, would "make us a perfect match."

But as Yenta advised her clients in "Fiddler," she did the best she could with what she had to work with.

Alas, there is no such thing as perfection - on Broadway, in real life, or in the more banal existence of partisan politics.

Politicians all over the country are at their drawing boards, trying to put together new districting plans for state legislatures and the Congress in accordance with results of the 2000 census.

It's not easy to come up with plans that will please everybody, even if the politicians tried.

Fairness and universal happiness are mostly out the window when it comes to redistricting. Partisan advantage is the order of the day.

Of course, there are certain legal guides which must be observed -- such as districts that are concise and compact, with roughly equal numbers of residents, and perhaps a few more. But beyond that, it's raw politics.

AND SO IT was as Michigan Republicans dropped their first districting shoe last week in the state House of Representatives, with a plan designed to increase Republican chances to win a half-dozen more seats in the state house.

The plan passed on a straight party line vote, after ruling Republicans popped their plan into the hopper, permitted time for only limited debate, provided no maps, then took the vote, all in the span of a few hours.

Democrats howled, of course, about both the method and the result. They were justified in howling about the method, but the result should have been expected.

"This is pure party politics," cried Mark Brewer, state Democratic party chair.

Of course it was, and it will be more of the same as the legislature plows ahead to re-district the senate and Michigan congressional seats, too.

The real complaint of Mr. Brewer and his partisan colleagues is that it's pure Republican party politics and not pure Democratic party politics. If they could, Democrats would do the same thing.

WITH REPUBLICANS in firm charge of the legislature as well as the governor's office -- and with Republican sympathies dominating the state supreme court -- precious little stands in the way of the GOP working its will on re-districting in Michigan this year.

There's not much Democrats can do about Michigan districting except to try to work behind the scenes for little favors here and there while posturing the public -- and keeping a wary eye on the details to try to find some GOP flaw so they can challenge the results in federal court.

That's the way the game is played.

For most voters, the whole question of districting is ho hum. To most voters, it doesn't make a lot of difference. Wherever the district lines fall, they will have representation. They may have a new legislator, but someone will be looking after their interests.

But to the politicians, districting is vital - especially for state legislators who want to run again, or congressmen who want to stay in office.

Where they will run is important. They don't want to have to develop new networks, work out new campaign teams, find new money sources.

In the meantime, it's a case of "mapmaker, mapmaker, make me a map..." -- but don't expect a perfect one. There is no such thing.

LEGION LAUGHS -- Some closing musings culled from American Legion magazine:

-- They say you can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar, but who wants a lot of flies?

-- He who laughs last probably had to have it explained to him.

-- If the world is getting smaller, why do we keep paying more to send a letter?

-- Modern prayer: God, grant me patience, and I want it right now.

-- Many politicians leave office because of illness and fatigue... voters become sick and tired of them.

Some postage rates change July 1

To the editor,

By now you have most likely heard the Postal Service will adjust postage rates this July. The rate adjustment does not effect the price of a First-Class letter, which remains 34 cents.

No one likes raising rates, Postal employees included. What you may not have heard, though, are the reasons behind the action. The adjustment is a modification of the rates that took effect on January 7, 2001. The adequacy of these rates has been in dispute between the Postal Service and the independent Postal Rate Commission.

In short, the Postal Rate Commission granted approximately $1 billion less in revenue than the evidence provided by the Postal Service indicated was needed to cover the cost of operating our nation's mail system. The (United States Postal Service) Governors have the authority to override the Postal Rate Commission with a unanimous vote. Commenting on the decision, Board Chairman Robert Rider said, "the governors reluctantly decided to adjust the rates to make up a shortfall of about $975 million caused by the Postal Rate Commission decision." Rider added that, "The cumbersome and difficult course of this proceeding demonstrates once again the need for structural reform of the Postal Service's underlying legislation."

Q. Why are you raising rates again only six months after a rate increase?

A. When the Postal Service filed its rate case with the Postal Rate Commission managers asked for the amount they felt it would take to run the Postal Service. The Rate Commission reduced that amount.

Simply put, they did not provide the Postal Service the revenue they need to run the organization.

Additionally, there have been significant increases in the costs of doing business -- costs such as fuel, transportation, utilities, salaries and health benefits. The Postal Service receives no tax subsidies to operate. Without increases, we face significant losses, and that could adversely impact the nation's mail service.

Q. When is the price of mailing a letter going up?

A. The price of mailing a one-ounce First-Class letter is not going up. It will remain 34 cents. Additional ounces will cost 23 cents. The new rates will take effect July 1.

Q. Will international rates go up also?

A. There are no changes to international rates.

Q. How is the Postal Service cutting costs?

A. The Postal Service continues to focus on cost reductions. However, like any business, the pressure of inflation causes our cost to rise. In Fiscal Year 2000, significant cost reductions were made to national programs and initiatives. Every year the Postal Service delivers to 1.7 million more addresses than the year before. Last year, Total Factor Productivity improved by 2.5 percent, which is the equivalent of reducing expenses by $1.6 billion. We will continue to strive to deliver mail to more people with fewer resources.

Postal Service officials announced in April a second round of budget cuts and actions aimed at stemming a projected loss that could exceed $2 billion for fiscal year 2001. The Postal Service has committed to reducing costs by $2.5 billion by 2003 and -- over the next five years -- plans to cut 75,000 work years, squeeze administrative costs by 25 percent, and reduce transportation costs by 10 percent.

Q. When was the rate case filed?

A. January 12, 2000.

Q. Why does raising rates take so long?

A. The process, as imposed by the current law, is long and complicated. The Postal Service determines what increases it needs. If its Board of Governors (BOG) agrees, the proposals are presented to the Postal Rate Commission (PRC), which gives interested parties an opportunity to express their views. The PRC has up to 10 months to make its recommendations. If the PRC's recommended rates differ from the Governors' proposal, the Governors can accept those rates, reject them, send them back for reconsideration, or challenge them in court. In limited circumstances, after further proceedings, the Governors may modify the recommended rates. Any modification, however, must be made by a unanimous Governors' decision.

Q. Will new rates mean we will have better or faster service?

A. We continually work to improve our service quality. We have achieved record customer satisfaction and on-time delivery as measured by an independent system. We are committed to living up to our promise of reliable and timely delivery to every household and business in the country at affordable rates.

Q. Does First-Class Mail subsidize "junk" mail?

A. If you are asking does First-Class Mail subsidize advertising mail, the answer is no. It never has, and it can't, by law. Each class of mail is required to pay its own way. In fact, advertising mail helps to offset the overall cost of running the Postal Service.

Q. Wasn't automation supposed to slow down rate increases?

A. It has. In fact, the cost of mailing a First-Class letter today is less than the cost in 1971 when indexed for increases in the cost of living. In 1971, the Postal Service delivered 87 billion pieces of mail. Last year, by contrast, the Service delivered 208 billion pieces of mail. The volume of mail has grown 139% yet the number of employees has increased just over 23% during that period.

Q. Will there be another rate filing this summer?

A. Postal Service management continues to take measures to cut costs and build revenues. Although it is premature to determine when the next rate case will be filed, the BOG directed postal management to begin preparation of another rate case at their February meeting.

Rate changes, effective July 1, include:

- Additional ounces of First-Class letters, from 21 cents to 23 cents.
- Postcard rate from 20 cents to 21 cents.
- Express Mail -- 1/2 lb., from $12.25 to $12.45; up to 2 lbs., from $16 to $16.25; and Flat Rate Envelope, from $16 to $16.25.
- Services -- Certified Mail, from $1.90 to $2.10 and Domestic Money Orders, from 75 cents to 90 cents.

MUMMIES MAKE IMPRESSION

I guess you could say Emily Leslie got "all wrapped up" following a trip to the Dennon Museum in Traverse City this spring. She went to the museum on May 15 along with other preschoolers in Gloria Moore and Karyn Rauch-Smock's class. The kids got to see real Egyptian mummies, explore many items in the hands-on discovery room and dress up like Egyptian kings and queens.

Bread, rolls, sticky buns feature of Super Saturday

For many people, there is nothing more nostalgic than the smell of fresh baked bread or sticky buns, right out of the oven. The nostalgia becomes even more intense when the oven is part of a wood burning cookstove.

On Saturday, June 30, Wellington Farm Park near Grayling will feature Bread, Rolls and Sticky Buns as its first Super Saturday activity of the season. On that day, volunteers and interpreters will be demonstrating the methods of baking used by the farm wives during the Great Depression.

Everything is done from "scratch." Often many of the materials used are produced right on the farm. Cornmeal for corn bread is ground in the gristmill, as is the whole wheat flour used for bread. Buckwheat flour for pancakes is also ground there.

All of these activities, and many more, will be part of the Super Saturday activities on June 30. The entire family should enjoy watching, smelling, and tasting as the home produced baked goods come from the ovens Wellington Farm Park. The park is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except Tuesday. Admission is $4 for adults and $3 for students and seniors.

Wellington Farm Park is a 60-acre open-air museum located on Military Road, just off I-75 and US-27. For more information or directions, call toll-free 1-888-653-3276 or visit the park's web site at www.wellingtonfarmpark.org.

The luncheon features Coney Island-style hot dogs and hot dogs with "the works." Entertainment will be provided by "The Sonic Tonic" and a 50/50 raffle will be held.

A demonstration and lecture on Neurobiofeedback Training will be given by Anemari Stancil in order to educate the community on Holland's treatment.

The Bible Speaks

Christ our Savior

Why do Bible believing Christians teach Jesus Christ as the only way of eternal salvation? "Jesus said unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (John 14:6). The apostle Peter said, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:12)

Let us examine Christ's own words as to why He can be trusted as the most accurate revealer of God's truth. First, God's Revelation of Jesus Christ is superior as to His source. "He that cometh from above is above all; he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all." (John 3:31) Christ coming from heaven can tell us more accurately the way to heaven than others who have never been there. Jesus said in John 3:12: "If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things?" "And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath: I am from above; ye are of this world: I am not of this world." (John 8:23) Christ said in John 16:28: "I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world; again, I leave the world, and go to the Father."

Second, The Revelation of Jesus

Christ is strongest as to substance "And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony. He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true." (John 3:32,33) Christ said, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness." "He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God." (John 1:11-13) The reason people are not saved by Jesus Christ is because of their own unbelief in His own words or witness. "He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself; he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son. And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son." (1 John 5:10,11)

Third, the Revelation of Jesus Christ is sure as to spirituality, because He speaks the pure words of God. "For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God" (John 3:34) "Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me." (John 7:16) "For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell." (Col. 1:19) "For in him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily." (Col. 2:9) Christ's words are sure because He is God. "The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand." (John 3:35) Christ also said in John 8:47: "He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God."

We must therefore conclude by these words of Jesus Christ that He is our only sure hope of eternal salvation. "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." (John 3:36) Pastor "B"

Please pray for God's blessings upon the ministry of this column and our church Websites at: <http://onramp.12k.com/~cha/> and at <http://www.12k.com/~cha/index.html> We at Calvary Baptist Church invite you to learn more from the Bible about Jesus Christ. Join us in a verse by verse study of the gospel of John each Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m.

Mercy begins new hospitalist service

Mercy Internal Medicine Associates (MIMA) has provided hospitalist (specializing in the care of adult hospitalized patients) services at Mercy Hospital for more than a decade. This has helped attract excellent doctors with different skills to come and stay in our communities, and has provided a stable foundation for local, high-quality hospital care.

As part of Mercy's continued investment in this community, Hospital Spokesperson Diane Friedrichsen has announced the expanded commitment of MIMA to inpatient care.

The hospitalist program will be staffed full-time by two internists, Drs. George James, MD and Rajiv Nair, MD while Drs. Fred Korneli, DO, Douglas Slater, MD, David Hunter, MD and Jacques Burgess, MD provide "contingent" hospital-ist services as necessary so that the program can provide seven-days-a-week, 24-hour-a-day inpatient coverage, 365 days a year.

Additionally, Dr. Bashar Kiani will also be spending the majority of his time on the hospitalist service although he will continue as an endocrinologist within Mercy Internal Medicine. Patients with diabetes, thyroid, pituitary, hormonal and bone disorders which require the care of an endocrinologist, will continue to be seen by and referred to Dr. Kiani.

"One of the most important advantages is that the hospitalist program will free area primary care physicians from hospital duties, therefore, opening their schedules for additional office appointments," said Stephanie Riemer Matuzak, CEO of Mercy Hospital Grayling. "Hospitalists are skilled at treating in-hospital conditions and can often anticipate complications which will improve hospital stays. The hospitalist becomes an advocate for the patient."

The hospitalist works closely with each patient's primary care physician. The primary care physician is contacted upon admission to the hospital by the hospitalist to discuss specific condition and medical history. Communications continue throughout the hospital stay and again upon discharge. All reports and test results are sent to the primary physician.

Hospitalist systems have worked in other health care facilities and have resulted in increased patient satisfaction and shorter lengths of stay, sometimes allowing hospitals to care for a higher acuity level of patients.

Primary care practices have also seen benefits, since physicians spend less out-of-office time going back and forth to the hospital, they can focus on their office practice including being able to see more patients in their office and reschedule fewer appointments.

A smooth transition of patients within the MIMA system is planned and after July 1, patients of Drs. James, Nair, and Kiani can be seen by Internal Medicine specialists Fred Korneli, DO, Douglas Slater, MD, or Will Hoshler, PA-C.

To schedule an appointment or for more information, call the Mercy Internal Medicine office at 348-6828.

The Guardian Angel

Lady Liberty stands proudly, with a welcoming arm outstretched to the poor and the oppressed, ready to guide them with her torch into the harbor of freedom...the United States of America.

For decade upon decade, the Statue of Liberty has become the symbol of hope for those who have chosen to make their home in this great country of ours...the perfect representation of unconditional acceptance. She stands through the storms, frigid winter winds, and the millions of tourists who make the annual climb to her crown.

As we prepare to celebrate another Independence Day, may we examine our spirits. Do we reflect the light of our Creator to those who approach us daily? Do we welcome others with open hearts, even when the storms of daily life take their toll?

Enter the haven of God's house this Sabbath. He wants there to receive us with the light of His unconditional love.

HOMETOWN NEWS

Submitted by Walter T. McCoy, Jr.
A 60th wedding anniversary celebration and dinner was held for Walter and Kathryn McCoy of Maple Forest Township at 6 p.m., Saturday, June 16 at the Otsego Ski Club in Gaylord.

The dinner party for all 60 friends, relatives and guests was received with great excitement by all. These friends, relatives and all attended from several parts of our country -- from California, Texas, Florida, Massachusetts, Ohio, and Michigan.

The party included seven of eight of Walter's brothers and sisters, and their spouses. Also present were "local" good friends from Lovells, Grayling, Gaylord and Frederic.

After dinner and decorated cake was served to all present, the party enjoyed a time of old-time family movies.

Walt and Kay, as they are known, opened many cards from long-time friends and relatives -- some not present at this 60th anniversary party.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Cherven were their son, Dr. Philip Cherven of Wichita, Kansas; also visiting was their daughter, Dr. Patrice Lockwood and her son Philip, of Birmingham.

HONORS

Christopher S. Lepsy, son of Jacqueline S. Lepsy and grandson of Lawrence D. Hunter, both of Grayling, received his doctoral degree in Pharmacokinetics from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, during April 27 commencement ceremonies held there.

Lepsy's dissertation research focused on biomolecular transport processes involved in the renal disposition of drugs and other molecules. His research demonstrated for the first time that certain antibiotic drugs can be reabsorbed by the kidney to a significant extent, thereby extending their duration of action in the body. The finding was unique in that it had been previously thought that the kidney only eliminated certain drugs of this class.

His research also demonstrated that certain acid, base, and dipeptide-like classes of drugs handled by the kidney may have the potential for drug-drug interactions with each other.

Lepsy, a 1980 honors graduate of GHS, earned a B.S. in Forensic Science cum laude from Michigan

State University in 1985, and an M.S. in Pharmacokinetics from the University of Michigan, in 1996.

Lepsy is currently employed in Ann Arbor as a Senior Scientist and Project Leader in the Pharmacokinetics, Dynamics, and Metabolism Department of Pfizer Global Research and Development, where he has been conducting research since 1989.

His current research at Pfizer is focused on the discovery and development of new medications for inflammation, cancer, and diabetes. Lepsy currently resides with his family, Sandi, Sean, Jeremy, Nicholas, and Alexis, in Howell. His daughter, Ashley, currently resides in Roscommon.

Inventors market new product in Grayling

by Dave Gelnick
Staff Writer

Thanks to the new "Can-Dam" can dispenser, invented by Mary Lou Hughes of Saginaw and Doug Behr of Midland, there is now a solution to the age-old problem of sliding cans in the refrigerator.

The "Can-Dam," which was invented at their cabin in Grayling, is being distributed at four local businesses in Grayling.

The two inventors have a trading-market already in Michigan, and plan on going national as soon as possible.

"We are currently making the product by hand, so it is hard," said Behr.

"But we don't work at it, we play at it," added Hughes.

Behr had been an inventor before, working for the Midland Dow Corporation.

Inventors Mary Lou Hughes and Doug Behr proudly showcase their product at a demonstration at the Crawford County Avalanche. The Can-Dam acts as a lip which catches cans and dispenses them before they can fall out.

Circus to visit Grayling on July 2

With birth of Jennie, a star is born

At only two and a half years old, this prodigy became the youngest ever center ring star of the Carson & Barnes 5-Ring Circus. Although the audiences find her absolutely adorable, there is much more to her act than just being cute.

Young Jennie executes amazing tricks well beyond her tender age, and her 1,900-plus pounds don't seem to slow her down. She moves about the ring with speed and grace. She is, of course, Jennie the Asian elephant, a precocious pachyderm, special in many ways.

On September 6, 1998, Isa gave birth to Jennie. At 250 pounds, she was Isa's first baby and the first elephant born in the Carson & Barnes elephant-breeding program. The Circus is committed to helping the endangered Asian elephant, and has built an extensive breeding facility. Having one of the largest gene pools in the country, Carson & Barnes is playing an important part in saving this magnificent animal.

Tim Frisco, the circus' Animal Care Director, was present at Jennie's birth, and has rarely been far from her since. There is an amazing bond between the two, no doubt strengthened by the many years Tim and Jennie's mother have worked together. He has Isa's absolute trust.

"Jennie is a natural performer," Frisco said recently. "She loves showing off."

They began working together early in Jennie's life to develop the impressive act she now performs with ease. Frisco's many years of living and working with elephants have convinced him of the intelligence of elephants, and Jennie has shown herself to be a cut above most. She appears along with 20 other elephants in the latest edition of this incredible five-ring spectacle.

The performance also includes lions, tigers, ligers, Friesian stallions, camels, llamas, and many other animals. The human species is well represented also with talented acrobats, aerialists, and artists of all description from around the globe.

This international, inter-species, intergenerational extravaganza is coming to Grayling on July 2, with performances at 4:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The Circus is being hosted by the Kiwanis Club of Grayling. For ticket information, see the ad in this week's Avalanche.

Baby Jennie takes a bow.

Commercial property agent joins local real estate team

Century 21 River Country Real Estate of Grayling has announced the addition of Don Bowers to its professional real estate staff. Bowers and his wife, Barbara, made Grayling their permanent home about four years ago, moving here from Sarasota, Florida.

The Bowers have been busy becoming part of the community with Don involved with the Chamber of Commerce representing SCORE, Counselors to American Business and serving on the Crawford County Economic Development Fund Committee. Barbara, or "Barb" as she is known, is a member of the Grayling Promotional Association (GPA) and is very busy as the chairperson of this year's AuSable River Festival.

Don will be specializing in commercial real estate and has an extensive background in commercial, industrial, business and investment real estate. His commercial background includes over 20 years operating a commercial real estate office in Florida. He also brings experience in land acquisition and franchising with such notable companies as Midas, Winnebago, Sun Oil Company and Manor Care Health Corporation.

"We are very excited to have a person on our staff who is able to provide professional assistance to business buyers and sellers," stated Randy Thompson, Broker of Century 21 River Country Real Estate. "Don will be able to assess the needs and assist with identifying the requirements of purchasing a business or help the seller analyze capital gains and recapture."

"It is not necessarily who you know, but what they know," Don remarked when it comes to buying or selling a business, or commercial, industrial and investment properties. Bowers said he will be very happy to meet with anyone interested in buying or selling commercial property and help analyze what the client is trying to accomplish.

Century 21 River Country Real Estate is located north of the K-Mart store on the I-75 Business Loop in Grayling.

In memory of...

In loving memory of Ralph Helsel, Sr.

A million times we needed you, a million times we cried.

If love alone could have saved you, you would never have died.

If all the world was ours to give, we would give it.

Yes, and more, to see you coming up the steps, and walking thru the door.

To hear your voice, to see your smile, to set and talk with you awhile.

To be with you the same old way, would be our fondest day.

A heart of gold stopped beating, two smiling eyes closed to rest.

God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best.

His wife, Betty and families

Camp Grayling honors 'The Chosin Few'

by Dave Golnick
Staff Writer

Camp Grayling recently held a presentation of modern combat tactics, equipment, and training for a group of compassionate Korean War veterans known as "The Chosin Few" Michigan Chapter. The 23 participants of the presentation represented the soldiers who were part of the Changjin Reservoir conflict and their wives.

The Chosin Few reunites proud allied survivors of the 1950 battle of the Changjin (Chosin) Reservoir fought that November-December in the North Korean mountains near Manchuria.

Founded April 22, 1983, The Chosin Few has over 4,000 members from all U.S. services plus South Koreans, former British Marine Commandos, and former Royal Australian Air Force members. The name of the organization stems from the fact that so few were engaged at Chosin and survived the conflict.

The group elected to come to Camp Grayling on June 19, 20, and 21 in order to hold a monthly meeting and also to attend a special presentation conducted by Major Luanne Shirkey of the Michigan National Guard.

The presentation, which included speeches by military representative, demonstrations of training equipment and tactics, a special multimedia presentation of heavy military equipment in action, and finally a demonstration of the technological services provided by Camp Grayling.

The visitors were also taken on a tour of Camp Grayling, to see the mess halls, the parade grounds, an explosives range, and the Distributive Learning Center.

While accompanying these heroes on their short tour of Camp facilities, I learned about the perspective of the soldiers, which no book can substitute. These men were forced to fight against two different enemies: subzero temperatures weather and a surrounding army of Chinese combat units pressing an ambush on the Allied men.

Lieutenant Colonel Dana McDaniel (middle) listens intently as The Chosin Few Michigan Chapter director Glenn Dennis (right) explains the importance of communication between officers and their men. The Chosin Few were taken out to an explosives range where they were given a demonstration of modern explosives equipment by the 112 Engineer Battalion Heavy Division from Cleveland, Ohio.

It is important to note that our final destination of the tour was an explosives range being used by the 112 Engineer Battalion Heavy Division from Brook Park in Cleveland, Ohio, under Lieutenant Colonel Dana McDaniel. It is here that the true historical context was finally put into place.

As the Ohio National Guardsmen knelt before him, the President of The Chosin Few Michigan Chapter,

Glenn Dennis, told the tale of the Changjin evacuation, which included personal tales of sacrifice and bravery in order that "every man would make it out, or none of us would." It was an honor to be around these men, who have bravely contributed to our country. But, to my amazement, every soldier in that battalion of engineers kept constant eye contact with that man, as he laid bare the truths of brotherhood and companionship beyond hope.

At the conclusion of the speech, LTC McDaniel presented Dennis with the official coin of the engineer battalion, in honor of his "inspiring words and the great contributions (of The Chosin Few) to the entire Armed Forces."

It was an honor to see the torch of patriotism being passed from one generation to the next, in order that it may never go out.

Local National Guardsmen demonstrate a simulated M-16 rifle and a laser collaboration system to members of The Chosin Few. The National Guard also demonstrated the use of the new technology being employed by the military within its training facilities with a multi-media presentation.

Pilot recognized for search efforts

Local pilot Coe Eliassen (left) was recognized on June 18 for his efforts during a May 20 search for a missing 11-year-old Korean girl. The search lasted three hours and involved many local residents and personnel from many law enforcement and rescue groups. Crawford County Undersheriff Kirk Wakefield (not shown) presented him with a certificate and Grayling Eagles Aerie #3465 current president Bud Morgan (right) presented him with an engraved plaque recognizing his selfless efforts. Eliassen is the owner and operator of Bird's Eye Aviation Company, serving as the Fixed Base Operations at the Grayling Army Airfield.

54th Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon

Another record-breaking year?

Over 50 teams have signed up for the 2001 AuSable Marathon

Staff Writer

Canoe racing teams are signing up for this year's AuSable River Canoe Marathon at a pace close to last year's record-breaking number of entries. Fifty-one two-person teams have registered for this year's marathon as of Friday, June 22.

The start of the 2001 AuSable Marathon is about four weeks away. On Saturday, July 28, teams will line up their canoes in downtown Grayling and sprint for the river at Ray's Canoe Livery at the 9 p.m. starting cannon. From there, racers will have to travel 120 miles to the finish line in Oscoda, a 14 to 18-hour trip for marathon paddlers.

Thousands of spectators are expected at the race's start, various viewings points along the way, and the race's finish.

Registrations for this year's marathon started slow, but they've picked up. A recent surge put the sign-up tally at 51 as of last Friday, which is in line with last year's record-breaking number of registrants. Sixty-eight teams started the 2000 AuSable Marathon, the most ever to pile in the river at race time.

Serge Corbin and Jeff Kolka look focused after their introduction in the 1999 AuSable River Canoe Marathon. Kolka and Corbin have won five consecutive AuSable Canoe Marathons, and are one of 51 teams signed up for this year's marathon.

A recap of the 2000 Marathon

Jeff Kolka of Grayling and Serge Corbin of Quebec won the AuSable River Canoe Marathon for the fifth straight time last year. No other duo has won the AuSable Marathon five consecutive times in the race's 53-year history.

The marathon, a 120-mile canoe race from Grayling to Oscoda on the AuSable, had its largest field of starters last year at 68 canoes. Fifty-one made it to the finish line.

Kolka and Corbin finished the 2000 AuSable Marathon in 14 hours, 48 minutes. The second place team of John Sullivan and Louis Berthiaume crossed the finish line in 15:02:32. Ken Kolonich and Steve Kolonich took third with a time of 15:07:10. Bill Torongo and Denis Berthiaume finished fourth at 15:18:36.

Spike's Challenge races set for July 21-22

▶ Paddler Tribute races to feature C-2, C-1, and 'junior' & 'fledgling' events

The Spike's Challenge Paddler Tribute canoe races will be held on Saturday, July 21, and Sunday, July 22, this year. The C-2 race offers a warm-up event for AuSable River Canoe Marathon competitors and a chance for other canoe racers to paddle a race that covers the first 20 percent of the 120-mile AuSable Marathon course during daylight hours.

This year's Spike's Challenge will also offer a C-1 race and "junior" and "fledgling" races.

The Spike's Challenge C-1 race will start at 6 p.m. at Borchers' AuSable Canoeing on Saturday, July 21. The "junior" and "fledgling" races will start at 2 p.m. in the city park on Saturday, July 21.

The main event of the Spike's Challenge, the C-2 races, will start with sprints for position on Saturday, July 21, at the city park. Sprints are scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. At sprints, racers complete a looped course and the team's elapsed time determines its starting position for the run to the river on Sunday for the C-2 race.

Memorial Day canoe race held in New York

AuSable Marathon champions win General Clinton Canoe Regatta

► Kolka and Corbin win New York's 70-mile canoe marathon

Jeff Kolka of Grayling and Serge Corbin of St. Boniface, who together have won the last five consecutive AuSable River Canoe Marathons, took first place at the 39th Annual General Clinton Canoe Regatta held in New York during Memorial Day weekend in May.

The 70-mile race, part of the North American Triple Crown of Canoe Racing along with the AuSable Marathon and Canada's La Classique de Canots de la Mauricie, is held annually on the unpredictable Susquehanna River in New York.

The battle for first place at this year's General Clinton Regatta was a close one. The team of Al Rudquist and Tim Triebold finished just 35 seconds behind Kolka and Corbin to take second place. Denis Berthiaume and Louis Berthiaume took third, finishing about five minutes behind the leaders.

"We're looking forward to another great race for 2001," said Marathon Committee Chairman Crystal Filley. "Last year we had the most that ever started, and (sign-ups) are on the same pace as last year."

"There's quite a mix," Filley said of this year's 51 initial AuSable Marathon registrants. "We have a father-daughter team, an aunt and a niece, brothers, we have a father-son team. The ages are mixed, too. I like the mix of who's paddling."

This year's field already contains several marathon veterans, including Ken Kolonich, Steve Kolonich, Bill Torongo, Rick Joy, Lynne Witte, Al Widing Sr., Tony Short, Robert Bradford, Jeff Kolka, and Serge Corbin.

The team of Kolka and Corbin have won five consecutive AuSable Canoe Marathons. Kolka and Corbin finished first last year with a time of 14:48.00, about 14.5 minutes ahead of the second place canoe.

This year, Kolka and Corbin have already won the 2001 General Clinton Canoe Regatta held on New York's Susquehanna River in May (Memorial Day weekend). The defending marathon champions edged second place finishers Al Rudquist and Tim Triebold by 35 seconds in the General Clinton Regatta.

The first seven General Clinton finishers were all within eight minutes of the leaders.

The General Clinton Canoe Regatta, a 7 to 10-hour race, is the first leg of the North American Triple Crown of Canoe Racing. The AuSable Canoe Marathon is the second leg, and the Labor Day marathon on the St. Maurice River in Quebec, La Classique de Canots de la Mauricie, is the third leg of the Canoe Racing Triple Crown.

The AuSable River Canoe Marathon, traditionally held during the last full weekend in July, will start in Grayling on Saturday, July 28, and end in Oscoda on Sunday morning.

The AuSable Marathon Committee and volunteer helpers have been busy planning the event. "Our volunteers are exceptional," said Filley.

Currently, there are 15-20 volunteers actively working on AuSable Marathon arrangements, Filley said, but by race weekend, "We will have almost 300 people working the race at both ends."

MERRITT SPEEDWAY

Racing results from Saturday, June 23

LAKE CITY - It was three-wide racing throughout the night at Merritt Speedway with many of the big battles taking place further back in the field.

The night started with three rain-delayed features from last week and ended with a heated final in the Street Stock feature where the winner accepted his checkered flag while his car dangled from a hook of a tow truck.

Halfway through the street stock feature, Andy Chester of Kingsley, claimed the lead. For the rest of the race Chester and Robert Hammar of Cadillac battled for the lead. Hammar and Chester spent much of the remaining laps side by side, but Chester continued to hold onto the lead.

Hammar would close in on the turns, but in the straight-aways, Chester would reclaim the contested lead. It came down to the final lap with Hammar on the inside as the pair raced side by side to the finish. As the pair came out of turn four, Hammar's car drifted up into Chester's, sending Chester off the edge of turn four where his car rolled over.

Race track officials disqualified Hammar and Chester was declared the winner as he stood next to his car in turn four. He crossed the finish line on the back of a tow truck, but race officials reverted to the previously completed lap to declare him the winner.

"I don't know (what happened)," said Chester after the race. "He just got under me a little and it just went over."

Jeff Holmes of Luther and Ryan Richie of Gladwin finished in second and third, respectively. The rain-delayed feature win went to Leon Bidoul of Harrison who crossed the finish line with a flat tire. Bidoul finished in front of Chester and Randy Charles of Grayling. The rain-delayed feature was a thriller with the lead changing several times during the last seven laps.

Other street stock drivers collecting checkered flags were Bob Green of Kingsley and Glen Girard in the semi-features, as well as

Bob Green tops the point standings in the street stock division with just two points over Willard Hunt and five over Andy Chester.

LATE MODEL

Competition was heated in the late model division with 37 drivers competing for the night's top honors. Only the top 16 qualifiers are locked into the night's feature event. Gordon Bundy of Manton timed in the slowest of the top 16 with a 14.46. He was less than a second slower than the night's top qualifier, Don Marcoullier at 13.85.

Rail Rokos of Traverse City started on the outside pole to take the early lead in the late model feature. Rokos was quickly followed by the current points leader Eric Spangler and second in points, Frank Seder.

Rokos was able to pull away a bit as Spangler and Seder vied for second. Eight laps into the race, Seder found the outside groove around Spangler for second place. Marcoullier managed to grab third from Spangler on the inside groove.

Seder didn't waste any time closing the gap. He went to the outside of Rokos to challenge for the lead. He grabbed the lead with 19 laps remaining in the feature event. Rokos continued to look for a way to reclaim the lead, but Seder kept a strong hold on the lead.

Once the top four positions were established, the real competition began to take place further back in the field. Exciting side by side battles continued for the fifth, sixth and seventh positions.

"I knew I was running good," said Seder after the race, "but we were a little bit better at the beginning of the race."

Next weekend, the late model division will race winged outlaws. Seder is the current holder of the outlaw fast-time record of 11.79. Looking to next week, Seder said, "There's always room for improvement."

Seder crossed the finish line followed by Rokos, Marcoullier and Spangler. Rusty Seaver of Stanton claimed the win in the rain-delayed feature. Seaver finished ahead of Spangler and Greg Stokes. It was Seaver's second feature win of the season.

Marv Burrows won the semi feature win ahead of Bruce Vance and Terry Hill. Heat wins went to Peterman, Brian Lasak, Don Hawley and Greg Stokes. Seder won the fast four dash.

PRO TRUCK

Jeff Anderson of Cadillac worked his way up from the rear of the field to claim second place in the pro truck feature, behind Matt Saxton of Houghton Lake.

With 12 laps remaining in the feature, there was a five-way battle for third place between several top contenders. Saxton and Anderson were side by side vying for third. It was a tough battle as the pair moved their way to the front of the field.

With just four laps left, Anderson spun out in turn two. Mark Kauffman was sent to the rear of the field as Anderson was given back his position. Saxton claimed the lead and began to pull away from the field as Anderson moved inside Russ Hacker to claim second. On the last lap it was a three-way battle for third place as Anderson attempted to run down Saxton.

After working their way through the field, both drivers were happy to find their way at the front for the checkered.

"It was real tough," said Saxton about his trip to the front. "I had slowed down a little bit, but then I saw (Anderson) come up to me."

Anderson is currently the points leader with just seven points more than Saxton.

It looked like Ronnie Hill was all set to win the rain-delayed feature, but it wasn't meant to be. Hill had managed to keep the lead despite a tough challenge from Saxton. For more than 13 laps, Saxton had tried to find his way around Hill without success. It was down to the final lap in turn four and Hill was in the lead by more than a car length.

As Hill went to the outside to pass Bob Liuzzo, who was one lap down. As Hill went to pass, Liuzzo's car moved up sending Hill to the top of the track and giving Saxton a clear lane on the bottom. Saxton went on to claim the checkered flag just ahead of Hill.

MICHIGAN MODIFIED

Once Bob Hutson claimed the lead in the Michigan Modified feature, there was no looking back. He managed to put several car lengths between him and the rest of the field as he raced for the checkered flag. Hutson attributed his win, in part, to the tacky track.

"The car was fast in the heat races," Hutson said after the feature. "As soon as the moisture started coming out of the track, this thing really flies."

It wasn't as easy for second place finisher Greg Wangler who spent most of the race keeping second place away from Brent Banning. Both West Branch drivers spent most of the race switching back and forth from second and third by just inches. With seven laps remaining, Wangler finally managed to lock in his claim on second. By that time, Hutson was way out front.

With the top three positions almost decided, the battles began further back in the field. Several times there were four-way battles for position. Semi feature qualifier Chad Bauer worked his way up from the rear to finish ninth. Bauer was one of several drivers who were vying for that fourth and fifth position.

"Boy, he's tough," said Wangler of his battle with Banning. Both drivers said it was fun racing and commented on the fast, tacky track. Banning is currently leading the points championship. Wangler is second, trailing Banning by just five points.

Jerry Bazuin of McBain timed in the fastest for the Michigan Modifieds with a 15.12. Heat wins went to Daniel Van Haitsma of Lake City, Brad Urbach of Houghton Lake, Roger Steig of Reed City, Joey Fowler of St. Charles and Bob Hutson of Edmore. Semi feature wins went to Bauer and Andy Sprague. The 50 modified drivers averaged a qualifying time of 18.062 around the quarter mile dirt track.

The Carson & Barnes Circus

We hope that you will be able to visit the Carson & Barnes Family when we come to your town.

Our circus started in 1937 by Obert Miller and his sons, DR and Kelly. Obert's grandchildren and great-grandchildren grew up on the circus and continue to run the show.

There are many families on the circus. Some have been working in the circus business for many generations - their parents and grandparent all worked for the circus. One family with our show has been working in the Circus for 8 generations.

An old fashioned American Circus has three rings, a big tent, animals & people performers and moves almost every day from town to town. Many years ago, when Carson & Barnes got bigger and bigger, the owners made the tent longer and longer and added two rings and two smaller performance areas. We now have 5 rings and two other areas.

The animals on Carson & Barnes Circus are also part of our circus family. Many of the animal have been on the show for over 40 years. They are kept busy and active, working and performing. They are in close contact with their trainers and handlers (they all live in the same trailer together - the animals and the people) so if one of them gets sick the trainers can get them cured fast! The animals seem to like traveling with the circus, probably as much as people!!

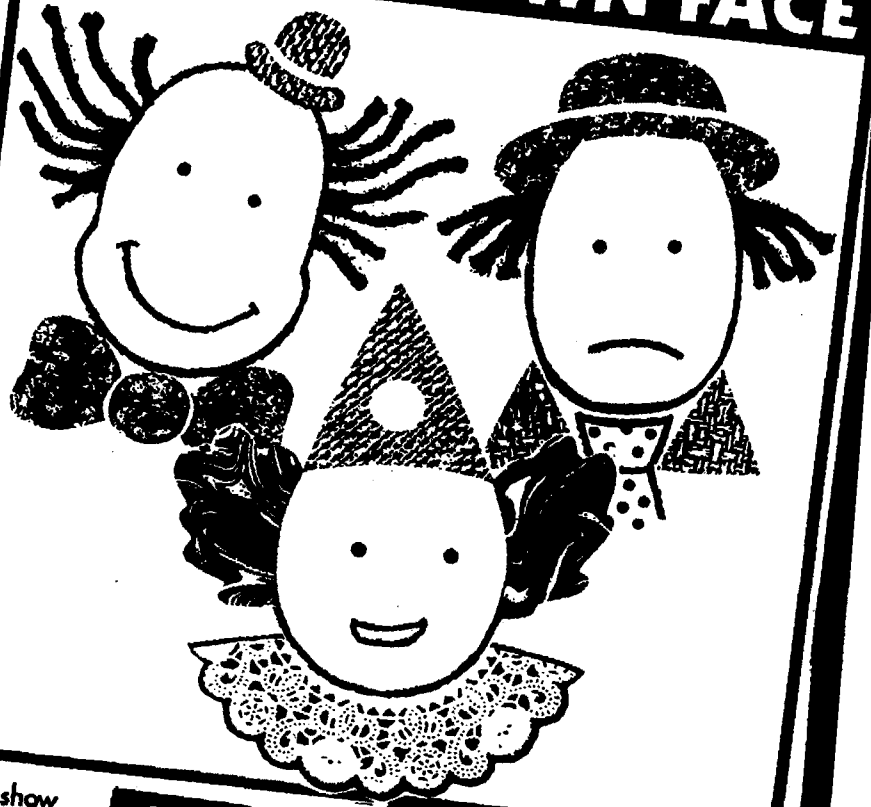

If you have a cat or dog at home you might be curious as to how we train the big lions and tigers and the other animals. The best way to train any animal is when the animal is young. You watch and play with the animal. When it does something that you want it to do, like lay down or jump, you say "Lay-Down", pet the animal and give it a treat. If you have to punish your animal for doing something wrong (like running into the street or fighting with another animal), you can slap a folded newspaper. This makes a noise that would scare the animal, but will not make the animal scared of you and will not hurt the animal.

The performers on the Circus must work hard and practice everyday. They must take good care of their bodies and their brains. To keep in shape the performers exercise, eat good balanced meals and always stay away from drugs. To grow up healthy and strong, listen to your parents and your teachers. Get lots of exercise, eat healthy foods, study hard in school and NEVER, NEVER use drugs.

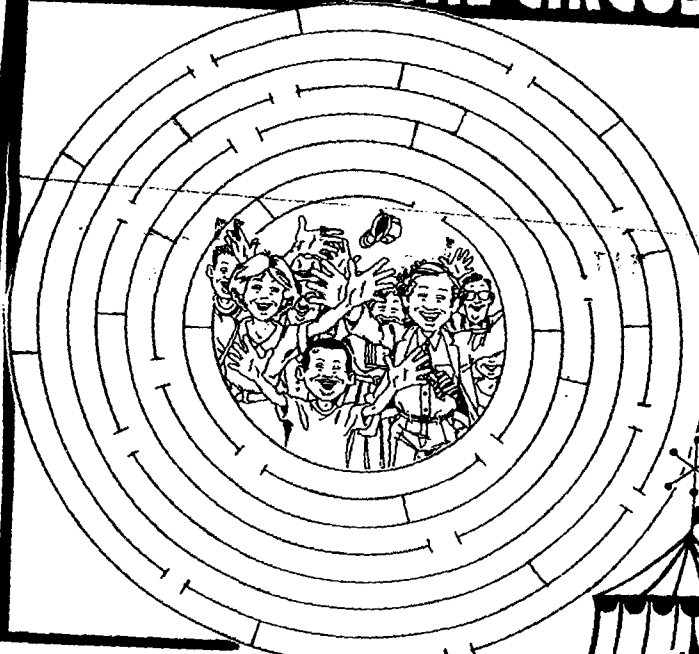

When the Carson & Barnes comes to your town, you and your family are invited to come out on Circus morning to meet our family. You can also watch our crew and elephants put up the big circus tents. All of the animals will also be out for you to visit on Circus morning.

(Let your parents know that it doesn't cost anything to come out and see the animals and watch set-up in the morning!!) See you when the show pulls into town and sets up.

Kirtland admitted to MCCA

Kirtland Community College Athletic Director Glen Donahue attended the June 18-20, 2001 meetings of the Michigan Community College Athletic Association and received the support of the entire body as it voted the College admission as a full member.

The Kirtland Firebirds completed their probationary year in 2000-2001 competing in three sports with schedules in Golf, Women's Basketball, and Men's Basketball.

The Firebirds are members in the National Junior College Athletic Association and are members in Region XII which includes Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

They will now compete in the Eastern Collegiate Conference in all three sports and will be qualified to win Conference Championships.

"We really appreciate the MCCA for accepting our new program and we are honored to be with our fellow institutions on the playing surfaces," said Donahue.

COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

by Donna Thomson

Wednesday Ladies Golf League

On June 20, the Wednesday Ladies League had a truly picture-perfect day. Sun, blue skies, and a gentle breeze. Just what we've been waiting for.

In Flight A, Lynda Hetrick and myself both had a low net of 32 and we tied for low putts of 14.

In Flight B, Norma Olsen had a low net of 28 and there was a two-way tie for low putts of 14 between Nancy Glaslee and Sally McNamara.

In Flight C, JoAnn Phillips and Shirley Schultz tied for a low net of 31 and Gloria Nielson had low putts of 16.

In Flight D, Bev Ludeman took it all with a low net of 32 and low putts of 16.

There were no birdies or chip-ins today. The towel from Cornell Agency was won by Kathy Olson.

Treva McClanahan announced that the "Heart of the North" tournament will be held on August 16 and if it should be raining it will be held on the 23rd.

She will need a lot of volunteers for different jobs, so if you weren't there and can help, please let Treva know. We are the host club this year, so we want to make a good showing.

We then had our lunch of quail, cheese tortellini with sauce, salads, and apple crisp for dessert.

Well, such a beautiful day shouldn't be wasted, so quite a few of us went back out and got in another nine. If you see Mo McNamara, ask her how beautiful her day was.

That's all "fore" now.

HOROSCOPES

For the week of June 25th thru July 1st

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 20)

Changes in your living arrangements will be necessary. Do what you have to, to make your life better. It's time to clean house. Get rid of things that are no longer needed. Reevaluate your intentions and eliminate those individuals who are holding you back. Put your cash in a safe place. You will enjoy yourself more if you include an older family member in your plans. Your lucky day this week will be Thursday!

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20)

He or she needs to get out and do things, too. Take your time and make the day enjoyable for everyone. You'll have trouble controlling your emotions. Don't nag your mate too much or you'll find yourself pending the evening all alone. You need to direct your energy into productive projects. You need to get out. Plan some lively entertainment for you and your mate. Get out and paint the town red. Your lucky day this week will be Friday!

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)

You may not be able to afford it but you do deserve it. Don't worry; just go out and enjoy. You will have an excellent eye for what's good and what's not. Go to flea markets or attend auctions. You stand a good chance of finding a real bargain. Be prepared to deal with over indulgent individuals. Your lucky day this week will be Monday!

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

Be careful not to leave the house without checking the essentials: the stove, furnace, lights, etc. You can never be too careful. Self-improvement projects will turn out well. Sign up for courses or join fitness clubs that offer a coed atmosphere. You can get into shape and meet interesting people at the same time. Hold on to what you've got. This is no time to gamble personal investments. Your lucky day this week will be Sunday!

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

Emotional upset will disrupt your domestic scene if you've neglected your duties. Go out with friends. Old romantic interests may try to get back into your life. Don't exaggerate or leave work unfinished. Minor mishaps will result if you aren't careful. Help the underdog. You may want to volunteer your time to a group you believe in. New romantic connections can be made while assisting those in need. Your lucky day this week will be Friday!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

You'll be emotional. Try to understand your lover's reason for getting upset. You may be at fault for a situation that you're blaming someone else for. You'll end up paying the price. Don't be too eager to let others know how you feel or what you're up to. Your hidden anger will be hard to contain if coworkers or employers continue to take you for granted. Don't spend money in hopes that you'll make yourself feel better. Your lucky day this week will be Wednesday!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)

Your depression is due to a lack of funds and an added bill will only contribute to your misery in the long run. Relatives and children will cost you dearly if you give in to their demands. Don't trust others with your possessions. It's best to pass on lavish forms of entertainment. Don't forget about your lover; deception and arguments will develop if you do. Be accommodating. Your lucky day this week will be Saturday!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)

A night out on the town should keep the relationship harmonious. You can learn from past mistakes if you take the time to reexamine your errors. Exaggeration may get you into trouble with relatives or close friends. Don't push your luck. You're best to keep a low profile. You need to invest your money in bonds or other conservative plans that will help you save. Don't let your health suffer because you haven't been taking good care of yourself. Your lucky day this week will be Tuesday!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

A good friend may be interested in more than just a friendship. You'd better look at the situation realistically or you may ruin the friendship that you already have with each other. You can make financial gains if you are willing to invest in a project you believe in. Take care of legal matters that have been hanging over your head. You'll be more interested in having fun than in working right now. Your lucky day this week will be Saturday!

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan. 19)

You should take another look at your future direction. It may be time for a career change. A challenge would do you some good. Don't let your emotions take over. Your partner may blow situations out of proportion if you don't give him the signals he's looking for. Don't let your financial worries get you down. You can make lasting friendships today. Attend social events that interest you and romantic opportunities will follow. Your lucky day this week will be Sunday!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

Travel, lectures, and social gatherings will enhance your confidence. Don't try to skirt emotional issues with your lover. If you go into hiding you may find yourself all alone when you come out. You have to face the music once and for all. You can impress superiors with your talent and your dedication. Don't hesitate to present your ideas to those who may be able to give you the financial backing you require. Your lucky day this week will be Monday!

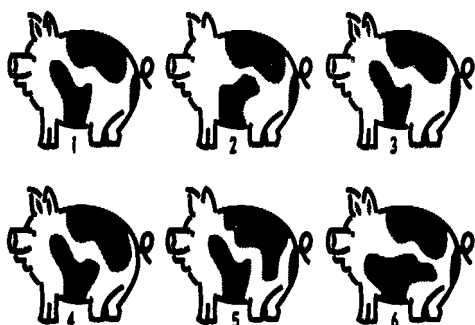

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20)

Get involved in organizations. Now is the time to go after that position of leadership you've been eyeing. You will get the support you need to put your ideas in motion. Your friends won't have your best interests at heart. You need to step back and view your situation with a microscope. Stay away from over indulgent people. Your quick wit will win you favors. Get involved in activities that will present you with a challenge. Your lucky day this week will be Saturday!
